

Coin Photo of the Day

I thought this was pretty cool so I thought I'd share. I believe the artist used $108 worth of change though I'm not sure in which country's currency.

The first picture is a mushroom from the Super Mario Brothers video games. The second picture is of course the symbol for the U.S. dollar. The third one I had to look up, it's the logo for Volcom, a clothing company.

Do we have any talented CoinBraggers that would like to attempt something like this? It could definitely be worth a prize!
