

Upgraded Our Content Management System--Lookout for Bugs!

Nicholas, Wednesday 16 December 2009 - 17:46:11

For the first time in about 2 years I have updated the Content Management System (CMS) for CoinBrag. This doesn't mean much for most of you except that a few bugs have been corrected and things should run a lot smoother. Any time you update a program or website, there's always the danger of new problems so if something doesn't look like it's running right, please let me know!