

Delete Option For Coin Checklists Added

You can now remove coins from your have, want and trade lists. At the bottom of your have/want/trade lists is a link that says "(View coins I have removed)" which takes you to a page of your recently removed coins. Periodically, I will permanently delete those coins from the database.

I designed it like this so that if you accidentally remove the wrong coin from your list, you can go to the remove page and easily add it back to one of your lists. I thought this might be preferable to a confirmation box that would confirm deletions--if you want to delete multiple coins, a confirmation box would slow the process.

I still need to work on allowing everyone to add comments to their lists and I hope to have that working soon.
